

Women's Committee Award of Excellence Nomination Form

For the eighth year, the NSCAA Women's Committee will honor an individual for her or his outstanding long-term service to women's soccer.

Presented annually at the Women's Breakfast, the Women's Committee Award of Excellence recognizes those who have brought honor and distinction to women's soccer and/or had a positive impact on the improvement, advancement or presentation of women's soccer. April Heinrichs received the first award, presented at the 2000 NSCAA Convention in Baltimore, Md. Other recipients include: Michelle Akers, 2001; Lauren Gregg, 2002; Michelle Morgan, 2003; Adele Dolansky, 2004; Colleen Hacker, 2005; and Lynn Berling-Manuel, 2006.

Nominations for the award will be collected at the NSCAA National Office, then forwarded to the award chair. All NSCAA members are invited to nominate individuals they believe meet the award's criteria. Outstanding candidates may be carried over for consideration in subsequent years at the committee members' discretion.

Any questions regarding this award may be directed to Sue Ryan, NSCAA Women's Committee, Stony Brook University, Sports Complex, Stony Brook, NY 11794, susan.ryan1@stonybrook.edu.
