

Director of Coaching Diploma
Santa Clara University
Santa Clara, Calif.
March 20-22, 2009

Information Sheet

Travel

Transportation to and from the course is the responsibility of each candidate. For those requiring flight arrangements, three airports are within a 45-minute radius of the course. The primary airport is San Jose International (SJC), located approximately 4 miles from the Santa Clara University campus. San Francisco International Airport (SFO) and Oakland International Airport (OAK) are each located approximately 35 miles from campus.

Start Time and Location

Registration will begin at 4 p.m. on Friday, March 20, with the location to be confirmed prior to the course. The course will begin promptly at 5 p.m., so please arrive early and allow time to check-in. The course will wrap up by 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 22.

Local Transportation

Candidates are responsible for their own transportation while at the course. Several car rental agencies service the area, with mass-transit options (<http://www.vta.org/>) available as well as taxi services.

Lodging

Candidates are responsible for arranging their own lodging for the course. There are several hotels within a short radius of Santa Clara University. Visit <http://www.scu.edu/map/visiting/index.cfm> for a list of hotels in close proximity to the campus.

Weather

The weather in Santa Clara in March is generally warm, with highs in the upper 60s and lows in the mid 40s. However, it can range anywhere between cold and rainy to sunny. The course will be held primarily indoors with some outdoor activity so you will need to plan accordingly.

What to Bring

Although the Director of Coaching diploma does not include any field sessions, you may be asked to participate in order to illustrate the instructors' sessions, so you may want to wear comfortable clothes you can run around in. Candidates are advised to bring a notebook and pens/pencils for any note taking.
